Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 87th year, operates 102 public schools in the city and county of San Francisco, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the period of service generally expiring in different years.

The program operates from kindergarten through junior college levels with eight high schools, one exclusively for girls, ten junior high schools, eighty-two day elementary schools, a day continuation school, a new trades school, and five adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: the Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, and the Gough School for the deaf, a diagnostic school and a school for retarded children. On the basis of end of the month enrollment these schools accommodate 81,297 children in a typical year.

Included in the program are classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Twenty teachers are assigned to teach home-bound children, temporarily unable to go to school.

The cost of operating these schools in a typical year is $9,826,242, of which the state of California provides $4,645,084 on the basis of daily average attendance.

The state subvention is derived from a three per cent state sales tax. The balance is made up largely from taxes on real property in the city and county of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are conterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

In the past 18 years 60 new school buildings have been erected. When the National Education Association meets in San Francisco next July, 17 new buildings will be under construction, as part of a building program authorized by the citizens last September and aided by a 45 per cent grant from the Public Works Administration.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest to the reader will be made available by writing to this office.

Summary of Expenditures for Schools

DURING the fiscal year 1937-1938 the income of the Board of Education from all sources was $12,264,390.77. Of this amount $4,636,817.39 was received from the State of California on the basis of average daily attendance in the elementary, junior and senior high schools of the city; $104,124.77 was represented by income from properties owned by the Board of Education; $125,240.03 was received from the Board of Health as an interdepartmental payment against health service rendered in the schools; $16,534.32 was remitted to the San Francisco Public Schools by the Federal Government as a payment for instruction under the Smith-Hughes Act; $39,350.00 was received from the sale of lands; $64,476.00 was received from other counties for tuition; $274,022.67 was received as a grant from the Federal Government; and $486.12 was derived from other sources. The balance of the income $7,003,339.47 was received from the City and County of San Francisco.

The income for the purposes of expenditure was divided as follows: $2,336,660.61 was provided for capital outlays and debt services; $9,927,730.16 was provided for current expenses of school maintenance.

ITEMIZED LIST OF EXPENDITURES

Actual expenditures for maintenance and operation of the schools totaled $9,826,242.30. The major item of expense in this subdivision was $7,886,874.77 expended for principals', teachers', supervisors', and janitors' salaries. Other items included:

Upkeep of school buildings.....	402,168.28	tributions to Retirement System,

The total expenditure for teachers' salaries alone during 1937-1938 was $7,298,503.64 an increase of $181,371.20 due to continuation of the annual increment, and the opening of the Samuel Gompers Trades School.

The total amount expended for land, buildings and equipment was $468,113.09 which was divided as follows:

BONDED DEBT

The San Francisco Public Schools had outstanding at the close of the fiscal year 1937-1938 a bonded debt of $11,400,000.00 comprising the unpaid balance on the bond issues of 1908, 1918, 1923, and 1934.

These balances were as follows:

Issue of 1908.....	$ 200,000.00
1918.....	700,000.00
1923.....	8,700,000.00
1934.....	1,800,000.00
Total.....	$ 11,400,000.00

The total bond debt was reduced by $1,545,875.00 during the year, this amount paying $568,875.00 interest and $977,000.00 on the principal of the outstanding debt.

VALUE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The conservative value of San Francisco public school buildings—land and equipment—is estimated at $42,125,594.30 based upon actual costs. In the inventory of property, however, are many valuable parcels of land which were obtained by the district by claim or gift in the early years of the municipality and for which no value is included.

The bonded indebtedness of the City and County of San Francisco as of June 30, 1938 was $161,145,200.00 of which school bonds accounted for $11,400,000.00. The proportionately small ratio of the debt of the public schools to the general debt of the municipality is accounted for by the fact that in recent years the Board of Education has been proceeding under the “pay-as-you-go” plan of school building. Under this plan there were provided the following sums for building purposes, exclusive of repairs:

Evening High is shown as 3,276 in Table II-b, which figure is actual average evening attendance, whereas the figure 1,843 in Table I-c is converted to a 240-minute day against a 135-minute evening.

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 88th year, operates 102 public schools in the City and County of San Francisco, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the period of service generally expiring in different years.

The program operates from kindergarten through junior college levels with eight high schools, one exclusively for girls, ten junior high schools, eighty-two day elementary schools, a day continuation school, a new trades school, and five adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: the Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, and the Gough School for the deaf, a diagnostic school and a school for retarded children. On the basis of end of the month enrollment these schools accommodate 81,233 children in a typical year.

Included in the program are classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Thirty-four teachers are assigned to teach home-bound children, temporarily unable to go to school.

The cost of operating these schools in a typical year is $10,029,134.88, of which the State of California provides $4,638,946.53 on the basis of daily average attendance. The state subvention is derived from a three per cent state sales tax. The balance is made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other states who desire to make comparisons will find information on page 6 of this report helpful in that it shows the over-all annual expenditures in a typical year to be $15,132,521.91, which amount includes $5,103,387.03 for capital outlays and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $12,368,000 as of June 30, 1939.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest to the reader will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco.

Summary of Expenditures for Schools

DURING the fiscal year 1938-1939 the income of the Board of Education from all sources was $15,090,527.89. Of this amount $4,621,250.45 was received from the State of California on the basis of average daily attendance in the elementary, junior and senior high schools of the city; $103,905.77 was represented by income from properties owned by the Board of Education; $140,228.30 was received from the Board of Health as an interdepartmental payment against health service rendered in the schools; $35,392.16 was remitted to the San Francisco Public Schools by the Federal Government as a payment for instruction under the Smith-Hughes and George-Deen Acts; $72,000.00 was received from the sale of lands and buildings; $78,886.40 was received from other counties for tuition; $1,361,896.25 was received as a grant from the Federal Government; $1,943,127.55 was received from the sale of bonds; and $1,330.46 was derived from other sources. The balance of the income $6,732,510.55 was received from the City and County of San Francisco.

The income for the purposes of expenditure was divided as follows: $5,103,387.03 was provided for capital outlays and debt services; $9,987,140.86 was provided for current expenses of school maintenance.

ITEMIZED LIST OF EXPENDITURES

Actual expenditures for maintenance and operation of the schools totaled $10,029,134.88. The major item of expense in this subdivision was $7,979,097.01 expended for principals', teachers', supervisors' and janitors' salaries. Other items included:

General supplies.....	$575,315.05	Other expenses—health service, con-
Upkeep of school buildings.....	435,504.81	tributions to Retirement System,
Cost of Administration.....	264,429.17	rents, insurance, etc.....	$774,788.84

The total expenditure for teachers' salaries alone during 1938-1939 was $7,384,570.48 an increase of $86,066.84 principally due to continuation of the annual increment.

The total amount actually expended for land, buildings and equipment was $888,895.40 which was divided as follows:

Cost of land for school sites.....	$130,877.36
Construction of buildings.....	280,804.91
Purchase of equipment.....	477,213.13

BONDED DEBT

The San Francisco Public Schools had outstanding at the close of the fiscal year 1938-1939 a bonded debt of $12,368,000.00 comprising the unpaid balance on the bond issues of 1918, 1923, 1934, and 1938.

These balances were as follows:

Issue of 1918.....	$ 525,000.00
1923.....	8,400,000.00
1934.....	1,500,000.00
1938.....	1,943,000.00
Total	$12,368,000.00

The total bond debt was reduced by $1,519,575.55 during the year, this amount paying $544,575.55 interest and $975,000.00 on the principal of the outstanding debt.

VALUE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The conservative value of San Francisco public school buildings—land and equipment—is estimated at $42,428,683.48 based upon actual costs. In the inventory of property, however, are many valuable parcels of land which were obtained by the district through claim or gift in the early years of the municipality and for which no value is included.

The bonded indebtedness of the City and County of San Francisco as of June 30, 1939 was $157,243,800.00 of which school bonds accounted for $12,368,000.00. The proportionately small ratio of the debt of the public schools to the general debt of the municipality is accounted for by the fact that in recent years the Board of Education has been proceeding under the "pay-as-you-go" plan of school building. Under this plan there was provided the following sums for building purposes, exclusive of repairs:

1929-1930.....	$1,700,000.00	1935-1936.....	675,000.00

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 89th year, operates 105 public schools in the City and County of San Francisco, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The program operates from kindergarten through junior college levels with eight high schools, one exclusively for girls, eleven junior high schools, eighty-two day elementary schools, a day continuation school, a new trades school, and five adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: the Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, and the Gough School for the deaf, a diagnostic school and a school for retarded children. On the basis of end of the month enrollment these schools accommodate 80,267 children in a typical year.

Included in the program are classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Thirty-four teachers are assigned to teach home-bound children, temporarily unable to go to school.

The cost of operating these schools in a typical year is $10,237,218.89, of which the State of California provides $4,744,513.58 on the basis of daily average attendance. The state subvention is derived from a three per cent state sales tax. The balance is made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other states who desire to make comparisons will find information on page 6 of this report helpful in that it shows the over-all annual expenditures in a typical year to be $15,282,790.15, which amount includes $5,045,571.26 for capital outlays and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $12,170,000 as of June 30, 1940.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest to the reader will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco.

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 90th year, operates 107 public schools in the City and County of San Francisco, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The program operates from kindergarten through junior college levels with nine high schools, one exclusively for girls, eleven junior high schools, eighty-five day elementary schools, a day continuation school, a trades school, and six adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: the Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, and the Gough School for the deaf, and a school for retarded children. On the basis of end of the month enrollment these schools accommodate 80,215 children in a typical year.

Included in the program are classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Twenty-two teachers are assigned to teach home-bound children, temporarily unable to go to school.

The cost of operating these schools in a typical year is $10,624,590.04, of which the State of California provides $4,574,593.12 on the basis of daily average attendance. The state subvention is derived from a three per cent state sales tax. The balance is made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other states who desire to make comparisons will find information on page 6 of this report helpful in that it shows the over-all annual expenditures in a typical year to be $13,859,055.69, which amount includes $3,234,465.65 for capital outlays and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $11,115,000 as of June 30, 1941.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest to the reader will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco.

VALUE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The conservative value of San Francisco public school buildings—land and equipment—is estimated at $47,834,645.23 based upon actual costs. In the inventory of property, however, are many valuable parcels of land which were obtained by the district through claim or gift in the early years of the municipality and for which no value is included.

The bonded indebtedness of the City and County of San Francisco as of July 1, 1941 was $140,281,300.00 of which school bonds accounted for $11,115,000.00. The following sums were provided for building purposes, exclusive of repairs in the Board of Education budgets:

Evening High is shown as 4,236 in Table II-b, which figure is actual average evening attendance, whereas the figure 2,382 in Table I-c is converted to a 240-minute day against a 135-minute evening.

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 91st year, operates 109 public schools in the City and County of San Francisco, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The program operates from kindergarten through junior college levels with nine high schools, one exclusively for girls, eleven junior high schools, eighty-six day elementary schools, a day continuation school, a trades school, and seven adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: the Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, the Gough School for the deaf, and a school for retarded children. On the basis of end of the month enrollment these schools accommodate 79,142 children in a typical year.

Included in the program are classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Twenty-three teachers are assigned to teach home-bound children, temporarily unable to go to school.

The cost of operating these schools in a typical year is $11,280,225.24 of which the State of California provides $4,633,667.39 on the basis of average daily attendance. The state subvention is derived from a three per cent state sales tax. The balance is made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other states who desire to make comparisons will find information on page 6 of this report helpful in that it shows the over-all annual expenditures in a typical year to be $13,112,256.15, which amount includes $1,832,030.91 for capital outlays and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $10,060,000.00 as of June 30, 1942.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest to the reader will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco, California.

Summary of Expenditures for Schools

DURING the fiscal year 1941-1942 the income of the Board of Education from all sources was $13,455,756.60. Of this amount $4,633,667.39 was received from the State of California on the basis of average daily attendance in the elementary, junior and senior high schools, and junior college of the city; and $15,054.58 as provided by the Smith-Hughes and George-Deen Acts; $103,675.17 was represented by income from properties owned by the Board of Education; $168,628.46 was received from the Board of Health as an interdepartmental payment against health service rendered in the schools; $25,444.50 was remitted to the San Francisco Public Schools by the Federal Government as a payment for instruction under the Smith-Hughes and George-Deen Acts and the Civilian Pilot Training Program; $907.00 was received from the sale of buildings and lands; $165,806.40 was received from other counties for tuition; $260,965.56 was received as a grant from the Federal Government for vocational education for National Defense; and $5,382.86 was derived from other sources. The balance of the income $8,076,224.68 was received from the City and County of San Francisco.

The income for the purposes of expenditure was divided as follows: $1,829,191.35 was provided for capital outlays and debt services; $11,626,565.25 was provided for current expenses of school maintenance.

ITEMIZED LIST OF EXPENDITURES

Actual expenditures for maintenance and operation of the schools totaled $11,280,225.24. The major item of expense in this subdivision was $8,814,493.89 expended for principals', teachers', supervisors', and janitors' salaries. Other items included:

General Supplies.....	$733,521.95	Other expense—health service,
Upkeep of school buildings.....	524,972.48	contributions to Retirement
Cost of Administration	277,656.95	System, rents, insurance, etc....	$929,579.97

The total expenditure for teachers' salaries alone during 1941-1942 was $8,136,008.04, an increase of $366,021.35 principally due to continuation of the annual increment and salaries paid instructors of war training program classes (National Defense).

The total amount actually expended for land, buildings, and equipment was $314,500.91 which was divided as follows:

Cost of land for school sites.....	$ 34,225.83
Construction of buildings.....	133,944.20
Purchase of equipment.....	146,330.88
	<hr/>
	$314,500.91

BONDED DEBT

The San Francisco Public Schools had outstanding at the close of the fiscal year 1941-1942 a bonded debt of $10,060,000.00 comprising the unpaid balance on the bond issues of 1923, 1934, and 1938.

These balances were as follows:

Issue of 1923.....	$ 7,500,000.00
1934.....	600,000.00
1938.....	1,960,000.00
Total	$10,060,000.00

The total debt was reduced by $1,517,530.00 during the year, this amount paying $462,530.00 interest and $1,055,000.00 on the principal of the outstanding debt.

VALUE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The conservative value of San Francisco public school buildings—land and equipment—is estimated at $48,094,490.19 based upon actual costs. In the inventory of property, however, are many valuable parcels of land which were obtained by the district through claim or gift in the early years of the municipality and for which no value is included.

The bonded indebtedness of the City and County of San Francisco as of July 1, 1942, was $132,901,200.00 of which school bonds accounted for $10,060,000.00. The following sums were provided for building purposes, exclusive of repairs, in the Board of Education budgets:

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 91st year, operates 111 public schools in the City and County of San Francisco, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The program operates from kindergarten through junior college levels with nine high schools, one exclusively for girls, eleven junior high schools, seventy-seven day elementary schools, a day continuation school, a trades school, and eight adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: the Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, the Gough School for the deaf, and a school for retarded children. On the basis of end of the month enrollment these schools accommodate 79,737 children in a typical year.

Included in the program are classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Fifteen teachers are assigned to teach home-bound children, temporarily unable to go to school.

The cost of operating these schools in a typical year is $11,401,670.86 of which the State of California provides $4,572,157.95 on the basis of average daily attendance. The balance is made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other states who desire to make comparisons will find information on page 6 of this report helpful in that it shows the over-all annual expenditures in a typical year to be $12,872,305.65, which amount includes $1,470,634.79 for capital outlays and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $9,180,000.00 as of June 30, 1943.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest to the reader will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco, 2, California.

VALUE OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS

The conservative value of San Francisco public school buildings—land and equipment—is estimated at $48,222,029.83 based upon actual costs. In the inventory of property, however, are many valuable parcels of land which were obtained by the district through claim or gift in the early years of the municipality and for which no value is included.

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 92nd year, operates 115 public schools in the City and County of San Francisco, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The program operates from kindergarten through junior college levels with nine high schools, one exclusively for girls, eleven junior high schools, seventy-eight day elementary schools, a day continuation school, a trades school, and eight adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: The Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, the Gough School for the deaf, and a school for retarded children. On the basis of end of the month enrollment these schools accommodate 76,402 children in a typical year.

Included in the program are classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Twelve teachers are assigned to teach home-bound children, temporarily unable to go to school.

The cost of operating these schools in a typical year is $11,824,583.18 of which the State of California provides $4,610,687.87 on the basis of average daily attendance. The balance is made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other states who desire to make comparisons will find information on page 14 of this report helpful in that it shows the over-all annual expenditures in a typical year to be $13,204,869.88 which amount includes $1,380,286.70 for capital outlays and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $8,300,000.00 as of June 30, 1944.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest to the reader will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco 2, California.

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 93rd year, operates 117 public schools in the City and County of San Francisco, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The program operates from kindergarten through junior college levels with nine high schools, one exclusively for girls, eleven junior high schools, eighty-one day elementary schools, a day continuation school, a trades school, and eight adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: The Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, the Gough School for the deaf, and a school for retarded children. On the basis of end of the month enrollment these schools accommodate 77,135 children in a typical year.

Included in the program are classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Twelve teachers are assigned to teach home-bound children temporarily unable to go to school.

The cost of operating these schools in a typical year is $13,212,566.01 of which the State of California provides $4,436,353.37 on the basis of average daily attendance. The balance is made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other States who desire to make comparisons will find information on page 14 of this report helpful in that it shows the over-all annual expenditures in a typical year to be $14,543,396.63 which amount includes $1,330,830.62 for capital outlay and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $7,720,000.00 as of June 30, 1945.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest to the reader will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco 2, California.

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 94th year, operates 112 public schools, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The school program operates from kindergarten through junior college, with one junior college, nine high schools (one exclusively for girls), eleven junior high schools, eighty-four day elementary schools, a day continuation school, two trade schools, and four adult education centers operating each evening during the school year. Included in the day schools are: The Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, the Gough School for the deaf, a school for retarded children, and a school for wards of the Juvenile Court. The accumulative number of minors and adults for which accommodations were provided during the school year was 127,902.

Included in the school program are special classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Teachers are also assigned to teach home-bound children temporarily unable to go to school.

The operating cost of these schools in 1945-46 was $13,516,309.59 of which the State of California provided $4,646,372.71 on the basis of average daily attendance. The balance was made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other school districts who desire to make comparisons will find helpful information on page 9 of this report. The over-all annual expenditures during the year 1945-46 were $14,957,962.13 which amount includes $1,441,652.54 for capital outlay and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $7,140,000.00 as of June 30, 1946.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco 2, California.

Foreword

THE San Francisco Unified School District, now in its 95th year, operates 111 public schools, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The school program operates from kindergarten through junior college, with one junior college, nine high schools (one exclusively for girls), eleven junior high schools, eighty-four day elementary schools, a day continuation school, two trade schools, and three adult education centers. Included in the day schools are: The Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, the Gough School for the deaf, a school for retarded children, and a school for wards of the Juvenile Court. The accumulative number of minors and adults for which accommodations were provided during the school year was 147,587.

Included in the school program are special classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Teachers are assigned to classes in hospitals and also to teach home-bound children temporarily unable to go to school.

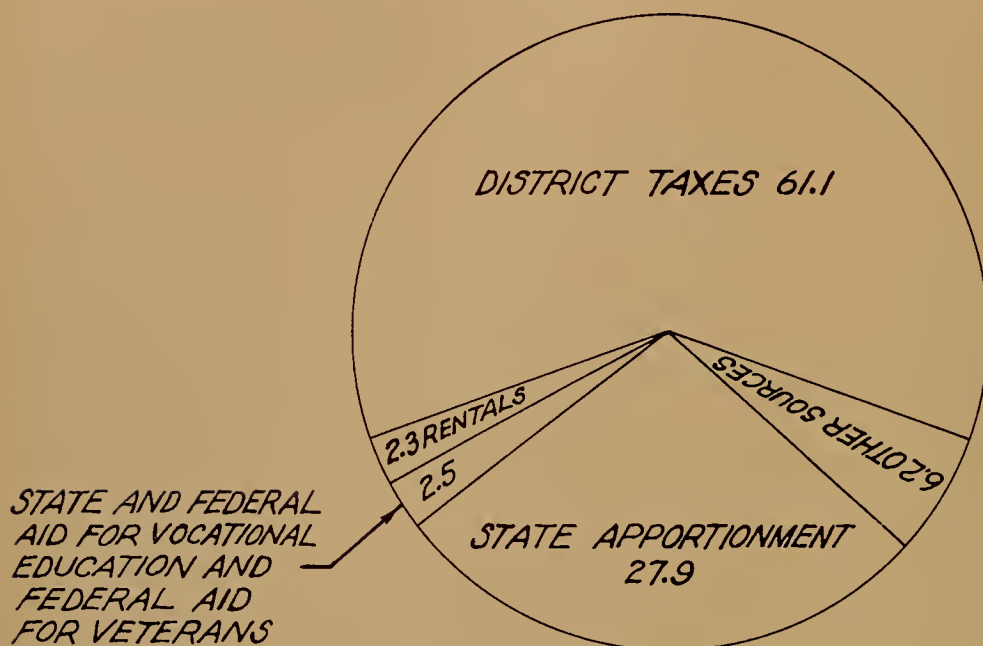

The operating cost of these schools in 1946-47 was $16,289,069.60 of which the State of California provided $4,729,669.97 on the basis of average daily attendance. The balance was made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other school districts who desire to make comparisons will find helpful information on page 9 of this report. The over-all annual expenditures during the year 1946-47 were $18,375,534.09 which amount includes $2,086,464.49 for capital outlay and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $6,560,000.00 as of June 30, 1947.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco 2, California.

Foreword

THE SAN FRANCISCO UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT, now in its 96th year, operates 112 public schools, under the jurisdiction of a Board of Education of seven members who are nominated by the Mayor of San Francisco and confirmed by the voters to serve five years, the periods of service generally expiring in different years.

The school program operates from kindergarten through junior college, with one junior college, nine high schools (one exclusively for girls), eleven junior high schools, eighty-five day elementary schools, a day continuation school, two trade schools, and three adult education centers. Included in the day schools are: The Sunshine School for health and orthopedic cases, the Gough School for the deaf, a school for retarded children, and a school for wards of the Juvenile Court. The accumulative number of minors and adults for which accommodations were provided during the school year was 177,258.

Included in the school program are special classes conducted in the day schools for conservation of sight, correction of speech and the teaching of lip reading. Teachers are assigned to classes in hospitals and also to teach home-bound children temporarily unable to go to school.

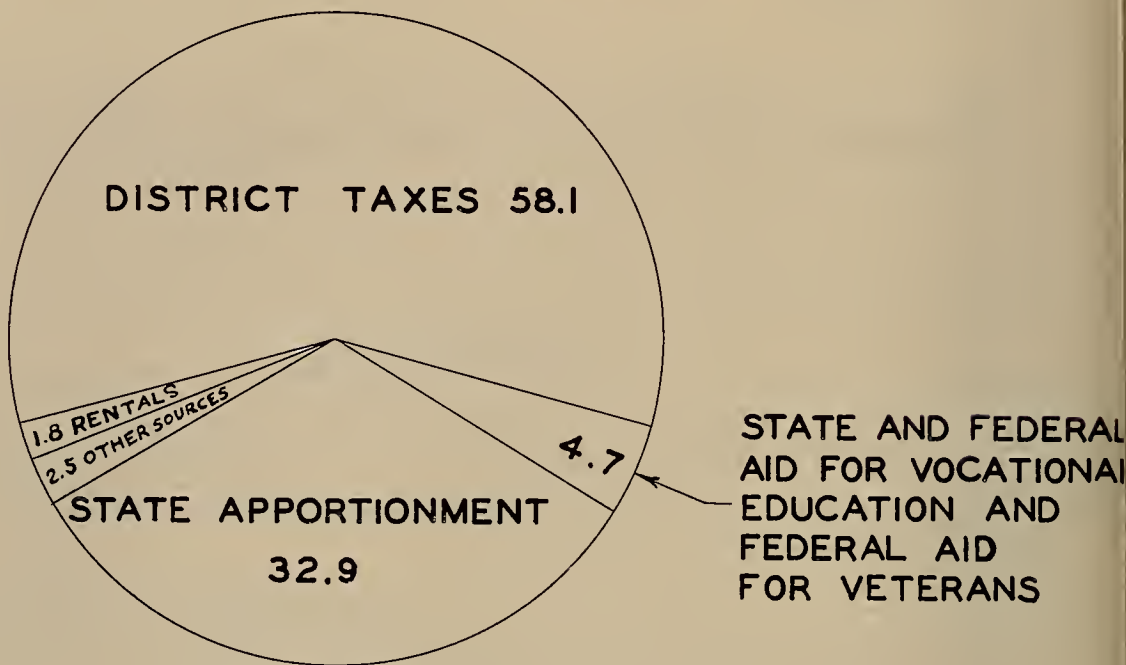

The operating cost of these schools in 1947-48 was $20,369,930.76 of which the State of California provided $6,938,880.00 on the basis of average daily attendance. The balance was made up largely from taxes on real property in the City and County of San Francisco, the boundaries of which are coterminous with that of the San Francisco Unified School District.

Administrators in other school districts who desire to make comparisons will find helpful information on page 9 of this report. The over-all annual expenditures during the year 1947-48 were $22,059,158.25 which amount includes $1,689,227.49 for capital outlay and debt service. Bonded debt on the San Francisco Public Schools is $5,980,000.00 as of June 30, 1948.

Additional information upon any specific point of interest will be made available by writing to this office, 93 Grove Street, San Francisco 2, California.

Herbert C. Clisf
Superintendent of Public Schools.
